Whatever you prefer.

Now the most important facts:

We are an owner-managed specialist chemical company, founded in 1954 and based in Neumünster, Schleswig-Holstein.

We currently employ 280 employees, 150 of whom work in field service throughout Germany as consultants/account managers as well as service technicians.

We are the market-leading pest control service provider for the food industry as well as for its suppliers and other partner companies in the value chain. Of course, we are also active in all other industries in which professional pest control is inevitably located. Not, however, in the private environment, where clearly different requirements have to be fit.

In addition, we are developers and manufacturers of products that are used as part of our services (biocides) on the one hand, and are offered to professional bulk consumers for their own use in the following specialist areas on the other:

- ➔ pest control and storage protection
- ➔ weed control (public greenery)
- ➔ cleaning and disinfection
- ➔ sanitary hygiene.

In order to maintain our independence and to be able to offer our customers an efficient product range in the long term, we decided a few years ago to invest in our most important active ingredients. Today we are unique in this field. No other manufacturer of our size has its own dossiers of active ingredients with which we can carry out self-sufficient product registrations throughout Europe. No pest control service provider operates with almost 100% of its products developed and manufactured in-house. You will not find a competitor with such a broad range of expertise in this field.

Our customers are located in many different fields, essentially these are:

- ➔ industrial companies of all kinds (especially food and pharmaceuticals)
- ➔ municipalities and their associated units
- ➔ clinics
- ➔ care facilities of all kinds
- ➔ food wholesale and retail trade
- ➔ agrarian societies
- ➔ sewage treatment plants
- ➔ etc. pp.

You can obtain our products after a detailed and individual technical consultation on site, since it's usually a matter of preparations in need of explanation, which are if used responsibly and professionally do not endanger humans or the environment.

Werk Neumünster

Our administration, production as well as commercial and scientific company management are concentrated on the same site from which we also coordinate our nationwide service and consulting activities.
